

Tongning WU

His work focuses on EMF dosimetry and medical image analysis.

Dr. Tongning Wu is the Vice Director of China Telecommunication Testing Labs, China Academy of Information and Communications Technology (CAICT). He also takes the responsibility as the Vice Chair of ITU-D Study Group 2 on Digital Transformation, Co-rapporteur of Question 7/2 on EMF Strategies and policies concerning human exposure to electromagnetic fields, a member of ICNIRP scientific expert group (SEG), a member of WHO Task Group on Radiofrequency Fields and Health Risks. In addition, he is the Director Designate of Bioelectromagnetics Committee of Chinese Society of Biomedical Engineering. He is a Fellow of IET and a Senior Member of IEEE. He obtained his Ph.D degree at Université Paris-Est Marne-la-Vallée, France.

